

ESTRADIOL

About This Test

Estradiol is a type of estrogen hormone crucial for reproductive health in women.

This test can be ordered to evaluate symptoms like irregular menstruation, hot flashes, or infertility, or to monitor hormone replacement therapy.

What Should I Do With My Results?

It is always recommended that you meet with a doctor to determine what your laboratory test results mean to you. Your doctor will review all of your test results and, combined with your health history, will be able to provide an accurate picture of your health status.

Low levels in blood may lead to irregular periods, hot flashes, or fertility issues.

High levels in blood could indicate hormone therapy side effects, ovarian tumors, or hormone-producing cancers.

How Do I Obtain My Results?

Results are available through our online patient portal, My Labs NowSM. Visit www.compunetlab.com to sign in or setup an account. Or text MYLABS to 66349.
